Sanctions the Reorganisation of the Ayurvedic College, Mysore.

READ—

Correspondence ending with Letter No. C. 1188 of 1923-24, dated 2nd April 1928, from the Muzrai Commissioner in Mysore, submitting proposals for the re-organisation of the Ayurvedic College and for the teaching of the Unani System as well.

ORDER NO. 253-5—MUZ. 368-26-19, DATED 1ST AUGUST 1928.

The question of re-organising the Ayurvedic College at Mysore has been under the consideration of Government for some time past. It was considered desirable to consult some Medical men regarding the lines on which the College might be re-organised, and the gentlemen addressed have been good enough to favour Government with their views on this subject. When the Anna Chattrams were abolished it was decided to utilise half the savings resulting from their abolition for the encouragement of the indigenous systems of medicine, both Ayurvedic and Unani, and the savings available for this purpose have now been ascertained.

2. Government are pleased to sanction the re-organisation of the College as in the statement appended to this order. The chief features of the revision are the following:—

(1) Increase in the strength of the staff and improvement of their pay.
(2) Increase in the number of scholarships for the Ayurvedic course from 20 to 40.
(3) Utilisation of the income from the endowment of the late Mr. Gopalacharlu for establishing a Chair of Ayurveda as desired by him in his Will.
(4) Provision for the teaching of the Unani system.

(5) Institution of 24 scholarships for the Unani course and
(6) Making provision in the Indigenous Hospital at Mysore for 24 beds for in-patients for giving clinical instructions to the students of the College.

3. The Muzrai Commissioner has suggested the employment of an expert from outside as Principal of the College. Enquiries may be made as to whether it is possible to obtain the services of an expert in Ayurveda on the salary proposed by the Commissioner. In the meantime, the charge of the College will be entrusted to the Head Master.

4. The Ayurvedic and Unani systems of medicine are largely practised in some parts of India, and it is desirable to give opportunities to Officers of the Medical Department and passed students of the Ayurvedic and Unani College to visit places where there are eminent practitioners of these systems and obtain information of value regarding their drugs and methods of treatment. A sum of Rs. 2,500 will be allotted annually for this purpose.

5. It is believed that there are indigenous specifics in use which sometimes prove valuable remedies in treating certain diseases and it is desirable to make enquiries about such specifics and popularise their use if the virtues claimed for them are proved. An annual provision of Rs. 500 will, for the present, be made for making these enquiries and paying for any information of value that may be obtained regarding indigenous specifics.

6. The Ayurvedic Hospital at Mysore is now treated as one of the Local Fund Institutions and merged in a minor head under Medical comprising all institutions of this kind. All expenditure on the encouragement of the indigenous systems including the outlay on Ayurvedic and Unani College as well as the Hospital that goes with it will hereafter be shown separately under "Medical" and the contributions received in aid of these institutions will be shown in reduction of total charges.

7. The total annual cost of the measures sanctioned in this order amounts to Rs. 35,000 as shown in the appended statement. Making allowance for contributions received from the Chattram Savings Fund—Rs. 15,000, the Municipal and District Funds—Rs. 1,872 and interest on the endowment made by the late Mr. Gopalacharlu—Rs. 1,000, the net expenditure to be borne by Government is Rs. 17,128, involving an excess of Rs. 7,628 over the grant in the current year. A sum of Rs. 2,500 will also be allowed for meeting the initial non-recurring charges of the college and the Hospital.

8. It is proposed to provide for the teaching of the Unani system in the College as re-organised and also to admit some inpatients for treatment according to that system and accordingly two Hakims of high standing in their profession will be added to the College Committee. The syllabuses for the Unani course will be drawn up by the Committee.

9. A schedule of demand for a supplementary grant to cover the excess expenditure chargeable to State Funds in the current year will be placed before the Legislative Council at the next Session.
